On the Subject of The Next Letter Game

You?!?! V.

- This needy will have a black screen initially displaying "--" and a button near the top left that has a label saying "-".
- If the needy's background is red, you're looking at the wrong manual.
- Every 50-70 seconds, the needy will activate a 10 second timer.
- When it activates, the display to change to a letter and a question mark, and the top left button's label will change to an exclamation mark.
- When this happens, you must input the next letter of the alphabet (wrapping around if necessary).
- To input a letter, focus the needy and press the corresponding letter key on your keyboard.
- This letter can be changed if you try inputing a different one.
- The inputted letter will replace the question mark on the screen.
- Press the top left button to submit.
- The needy will also automatically submit the letter inputted when the 10 second timer runs out.
- If the input is incorrect (or still a "?"), the needy will incur a strike.
- Regardless of your answer, the needy will deactivate when time runs out or when the top left button is pressed.

The Alphabet
